What makes a good conference or meeting?
We asked a number of organisers and this is what they said:-

Location - Langdale's location is hard to beat. A stunning mixture of lakes, mountains and trees never fails to enrich the spirit.

Good pre-event communication - at Langdale we have a dedicated Conference Co-ordination Team to guide you through the arrangements prior to your event.

Value for money - our delegate rates are inclusive of many items such as unlimited refreshments and extensive equipment. We don't believe in hidden extras, so you can budget accurately from the outset.

Equipment that works - our Conference Operations Team checks in advance that all our equipment is working. They are also on-hand throughout for any last-minute needs.

Refreshments that are served on time - our Conference Operations Team pride themselves on delivering tip-top service consistently and promptly.

Suitable meeting rooms - all the rooms at Langdale are purpose-built with natural daylight, individual heating controls, and high-backed leather chairs for maximum comfort.

Good food - Cumbria produces some of the best food in the UK and our Chefs use the finest local ingredients wherever possible to ensure hearty, nutritious meals.

Seven ways to make a good conference or meeting.

...one venue to make it happen.
